However, not everyone knows how to dance, which is where Just Dance Now comes. This mobile spinoff of the hit console series brings over 200 titles to iOS and Android smartphones, including Uptown Funk with Mark Ronson, Jailhouse Rock by Elvis Presley and (for some boundless reason) Hungarian dance No. 5 by Johannes Brahms. Although the game is free to download, you will pay for most songs. However, you can buy a temporary pass for as little as $1 per hour – great for one night entertainment. You can also cast it on the big screen using Google Cast or Apple AirPlay. MORE: See all the top Family and Group games android hockey is the last of the big four sports in North America, although it is also a good international following. However, it's just not the numbers that football or American football has. This means that developers don't pay as much attention to hockey as they do to other sports. In other words, you have some options here, but let's just say they are not the most powerful. However, there are some fun games to play. Here are the best hockey games for Android.Hockey All StarsHockey Nations 18Puppet HockeyPuzzle HockeyStickman HockeyBig Win HockeyPrice: Free to playBig Win Hockey is one of the more popular arcade hockey games for mobile devices. It plays like a pretty typical arcade sports sim. You collect different players, put together a team, and pit that team against opponents. It's not officially licensed for the name, so players aren't real, but there is still a lot here to do. Some of the game's features include a variety of customizables to unlock, fast PvP game modes, and you can even play with or against friends. It's nothing like the latest EA NHL game, but it'll get you. Blocky Hockeyprice: Free/$2.99blocky Hockey is a simple arcade hockey game. It uses runners mechanics. You skate down the lane. You have to switch lanes and keep going to avoid opponents. It features a bunch of playable characters, fighting, multiplayer, and retro-style graphics. There is not much else to play except for it. It is accessible, cheap, and fun to play. It's good to kill 20 minutes between periods. ESPN and Yahoo fantasy hockeyPrice: FreeESPN Fantasy Sports is a decent fantasy sports platform. It supports most sports, including hockey. The app allows you to create leagues or join it, set up your own team, set up a magazine, browser free agency, do business and communicate with other league managers. That is basically all it needs to do. The app is a casual glitch. We recommend that you do a double check to make sure your logs get set right. Otherwise, it's a decent, if sometimes slow, app for fantasy sports. Franchise Hockey 2020Price: Free to playFrance Hockey 2019 is a CBS fantasy hockey simulator. It struck us as odd since NBC is right on hockey games in the US, but whatever. The game allows you to build a team, simulate a full season, train your players, and more. It's mostly collectible game. This means that Freemium elements and loot boxes in the form of player packs. It's better than previous games in the franchise. However, its freemium mechanics are still quite aggressive. It's otherwise fun to play. Rage: HockeyPrice: $0.99+ $0.99Ice: Rage Hockey is a top-down arcade hockey game. You have a goalkeeper and one skater. You bounce the puck around until someone scores. It's kind of like the hockey version of air hockey. The game offers local multiplayer support for two players on one device. We thought it was quite unique. In addition, there is a little variety of tournament mode. This is a simple arcade game at its core. It is also not a freemium game, and it is a rarity in the mobile gaming room. The game is a good time for a killer, if nothing else. Hockey All Starsцена: Free playThockey all stars are a decent overall hockey game. You will get a joystick and a few buttons to actually control players on the ice. The game play is smooth and enjoyable, especially if you hit that pair of ice one-timers target. However, it is free to play the game with free play elements. Thus, you can expect quite a grind to get better players. Otherwise, it is one of the better mobile hockey games. Hockey Nations 18price: free/up to $4.99Hockey Nation 18 is a decent arcade hockey game. It is also the same developers hockey classic 16. It features three vs. three hockey between six nations. This includes 40 North American teams, 27 Russian League teams, 19 international teams and two all-star teams. It has you playing hour limit and you can buy more if you want. Aside from the fact that it is without the usual free play elements that soft mobile games. It's pretty good for what it is, and despite its name, it still receives updates from 2020.Puppet HockeyPrice: Free playPuppet Hockey is another arcade game with hockey elements. It's a 2D game with one-on-one game to play. You shoot the puck over the ice and the other player returns it. The one who wins the most goals wins. There are power-ups, truly entertaining animations, and more. However, at the end of the day, it's just Pong with a hockey theme. Still, it's a good time killer, even if it's a freemium game. Puzzle HockeyPrice: Free playpuzzle hockey is a hockey themed game three. You probably know how to play games in three games. You move symbols on the grid until you match three or more. The resulting games will help you score goals, make saves, and win games. It is officially licensed game, so there are actual hockey players in this game. However, at the end of the day, it is a game three with hockey topics, not an actual hockey game. Still, it'll get you through a 20-minute intermission. Stickman HockeyPrice: Free /$2.27Stickman Hockey is one of the few hockey games with actual hockey mechanics. You skate up and down the ice, score goals, and do other Stuff. It has a top-down style style hockey games. It would make older fans feel at home. The game also has four difficulty levels, 46 commands, different season modes, multiplayer PvP, and hardware controller support. This makes it probably the best true hockey game available on mobile devices. It's definitely not perfect though, and it's your share of bugs.
